

Semana 8

2-5 de octubre

The goal of this week is to further develop abilities to navigate cities and give directions when traveling and running errands. Also, students will be able to describe their needs and wants when searching for items/people/places that may exist.

Regarding culture, Mexican-American relations will be the primary focus. Spanish cities such as Madrid and Barcelona will be secondary topics.

By the end of the week students will:

Be able to give directions using the cardinal directions

Be able to discuss different places in the city to successfully discuss running errands

Be able to use the present subjunctive in adjective clauses

Be better versed in the life of Mexican immigrants in the U.S.
